

RAINWATER COLLECTING SYSTEM

The system covers most of the site plan so as to be the most effective by collecting water from a larger area. The rainwater passes through a number of cleaning filters and therefore it can be used for washing and watering plants. This engineering solution provides sustainability of the whole complex and ensures water supply during the dry season,