

The planning emphasizes the tension and the power that comes from the learning process, the university and its surroundings.

