

Making the structure

Structure and the floor will be made out of revived timber planks and bamboo poles from the wrecked boats. Boat builders and villagers with similar skills will work collectively in this stage. Every part of the structure is designed to be carried around easily by a single person or two.