

EXPERIENCING THE MUSEUM

Entrance view

The entrance of the Royal Docks Museum is preceded by a threshold where visitors, before stepping down into the darkness of the museum, can appreciate for a final moment the closeness to the landscape as well as the direct view towards the water and the Millenium Mills that gradually disappears as they descend.

