

RASHAD RESORT

More than a wellness retreat, the project acts as a catalyst for urban healing, A place where personal healing becomes part of a larger story of community renewal.

Concept Statemen:

Rashid's historic urban fabric faces a growing environmental challenge caused by the rise of shallow saline groundwater, which gradually damages many of the city's valuable historic buildings. This project proposes an ecological resort that transforms this environmental issue into a productive and therapeutic resource.

Form Generation

